AMY JOHNSON STARTS FAR EAST FLIGHT

BOUND FOR PEKING VIA MOSCOW.

UNHERALDED SOLO TRIP FROM ENGLAND.

LANDS AT LIEGE.

Amy Johnson is once again in the limelight. Unheralded until an announcement was made in the Daily Mail that a start had been made, she set out yesterday on a flight to Peking, her route involving the crossing of the Siberian wastes at a particularly difficult time of the year.

London, Dec. 31. The Daily Mail announces that Miss Amy Johnson, the world's most famous aviatrice, has started on a solo flight to Peking from England, travelling via Moscow.—Reuter.

Later, Miss Amy Johnson left, St. Lawrence Aerodrome at 10.40 a.m. on her flight to Peking, after being held up owing to fog.

Quick Trip?

Interviewed by Reuter prior to the start, she said the whole route was not definitely mapped, but she hoped to get to Berlin on the first day, Warsaw on the second and Moscow on the third. She would then fly to Omsk and afterwards follow the trans-Siberian railway route.—Reuter.

London Jan. 1

Only a score of people witnessed the start of Amy Johnson's flight to Peking.

Gipsy Moth Planes.

She is flying in a red and white Gipsy Moth plane, a machine which was presented to her after her memorable solo flight from England to Australia.

She was wearing a parachute on her back in case of emergency. In an interview, Amy said she had no idea exactly how long it would take for her to reach China. She was in no particular hurry, and she expressed a doubt whether she would get beyond Brussels on the first day owing to the blanket of snow over Europe.

Fearful Hazards.

The Russian section of her flight is likely to be the most hazardous as the cold is very intense and the ground is, perhaps, several feet deep in snow.

She stated that she is proposing to change the wheels of her plane skis on reaching Moscow.

The Soviet Embassy told Reuter that there were air routes all over Russia and that if Miss Johnson succeeded in reaching the aerodrome she would be all right.

Extremely Plucky.

But it was an extremely difficult and extremely plucky flight to undertake, particularly at this time of the year.

Mrs. Johnson said that her daughter had made no definite plans. She had no particular object in making a flight to China, except that she was keen to fly to China in order to establish another British air record.—Reuter.

Lands at Liege.

Miss Amy Johnson landed at Liege, on the Belgian border, at 4.15 p.m. to-day.—Reuter.

EXCITEMENT IN CHESS MATCH.

INDIAN PLAYER DEFEATS CAPABLANCA.

London, Jan. 1. In the third round of the International Chess Congress at Hastings, a sensation was created by the defeat of the famous, ex-world champion, Capablanca, by an Indian, Sultan Khan, the champion of British India, in sixty-two moves.

In the course of the game, Khan sacrificed his queen for two rooks. This is the first game that Capablanca has ever lost in a tournament in England, while Khan is hitherto the only player at Hastings who has won all his games.—Reuter.

BOMBAY NEW YEAR FURORE.

BRITISH AND INDIAN TROOPS IN CLASHES.

MANY CASUALTIES.

Bombay, Jan. 1.

The New Year dawned ominously in India, serious clashes taking place in Bombay last night in spite of every precaution by the authorities.

The All-India Congress "Ward Council" in defiance of the police ban, organised a number of meetings throughout the city at midnight, to celebrate the passing of the resolution at the Lahore Congress, which demanded complete independence for India.

The greatest of these demonstrations was planned to take place on the Chowpathi Sands. The police, meantime, took elaborate precautions, while Indian troops were posted at strategic points and a company of the East Lancashire Regiment was drawn up in the moonlight, on Chowpathi Beach.

In spite of this show of force, the crowds rolled up and skirmishes, soon followed.

By two o'clock in the morning, sixty-two persons had been seriously injured as to require their despatch to hospital, while ten others were very seriously hurt when the police were ordered to charge with staves. Several charges were necessary before the crowds dispersed.

In the neighbourhood of the sea-front a party of police was surrounded by a crowd, which began hurling stones.

The officer in charge finally ordered his squad to open fire, and nine of the demonstrators were wounded. Further police charges cleared the streets and all was quiet by four o'clock.—Reuter.

FRENCH WAR LOAN SCANDAL.

BRITAIN DESPATCHES A NEW NOTE.

SHARP COMMENT.

Paris, Dec. 31.

A disclosure that the British Government before Christmas sent another Note (the contents of which have not been divulged) requesting the French Government's further consideration of the claims of British bondholders in French War Loans, is made to-day.

The despatch of this second Note is somewhat sharply commented upon in the newspapers.

Le Journal asks whether this is the time to disturb Anglo-French relations by persisting in a disagreeable controversy and evoking hopes which cannot be satisfied.

It is understood that Britain adheres to the standpoint that the loans are repayable in gold francs and not at the existing rate of exchange.

Britain's first Note on the subject, in July last, evoked an unfavourable reply.—Reuter.

KING'S NEW YEAR MESSAGE.

"WE MUST STAND AS A UNITED PEOPLE."

London, Jan. 1.

His Majesty the King, replying to a message from the Lord Mayor of London conveying New Year greetings, says that while hopeful of satisfactory results from recent important conferences, the most sanguine minds cannot fail to realise the difficulties and anxieties which confront us at Home and Overseas.

His Majesty declares: All the more, therefore, we must stand as a united people, resolutely determined to find and follow the sure road which will lead the Empire to lasting peace and prosperity.—Reuter.

THE DOLLAR DECLINE.

The sterling value of the Hongkong dollar showed a further decline this morning, the opening rate being 1s. 0.7/8d. This represents a drop of 1/8d. as compared with Wednesday's quotation.

KNIGHTHOOD FOR MR. HORNELL.

THE GOVERNOR ALSO HONOURED.

LOCAL PERSONALITIES IN NEW YEAR LIST.

POLICE DISTINCTION.

His Excellency the Governor and the Vice-Chancellor of the Hongkong University figure prominently in the New Year Honours List. Sir William Peel gets the K.C.M.G. decoration, whilst Mr. W. W. Hornell receives a Knighthood.

Other local honours are as follows:

O.B.E. (Civil Division).—Mr. Edgar William Carpenter, Assistant Director of Public Works.
M.B.E. (Military Division).—Sergeant Major William Harold Edmonds, Inspector of Works, P.W.D.
King's Police Medal.—Mr. Walter Kent, Assistant Superintendent of Police.

Governor's Honour.

There will be general congratulations to His Excellency Sir William Peel on his receiving a further mark of His Majesty's favour. It was in 1926 that Mr. Peel (as he then was) received the C.M.G. decoration, being at the time Chief Secretary of the F.M.S., whilst in 1928, in which year he proceeded Home on special duty at the Colonial Office he was created a Knight of the Order of the British Empire.

It was in May last that His Excellency came to Hongkong as Governor in succession to Sir Cecil Clementi, the whole of his previous Colonial service having been in Malaya. During his 33 years in the Malayan Civil Service, His Excellency proved himself a notably able, experienced and tactful administrator, enjoying the confidence of the Rulers—and of all the communities in the Federation to a marked degree. Whilst he received many congratulations on his elevation to the Governorship of Hongkong, there was universal regret in the F.M.S. when he severed his lengthy and beneficial association with Malaya.

Golden Opinions.

During his brief period of service in Hongkong, His Excellency has won golden opinions, not only because of his charm of manner and happy disposition, but also by reason of his marked abilities as an administrator. He has secured a remarkably quick grasp of the Colony's problems and has shown himself a man of determination to pursue any course to which he has committed himself after due consideration. He has particularly concerned himself with the crisis through which the Colony is passing as a result of the decline in the value of the dollar, insisting wherever possible on economy in the administration of Hongkong's affairs. His appointment of a Retrenchment Committee, with wide powers of reference, may be cited in this connexion. A hard worker, with a high sense of his responsibilities, he has also made a large circle of friends in the social and sporting life of the Colony, and there will be general agreement amongst all sections of the community that the latest honour conferred on him has been thoroughly deserved.

Long Overdue.

Satisfaction will be no less universal in the case of Sir William Hornell, whose elevation to the honour of a Knight Bachelor can be described as long overdue. No happier choice could possibly have been made. For the gentility of his disposition no less than for his manifest talents and learning, the Vice-Chancellor has during the seven years in which he has presided over the destinies of the University made himself immensely popular in Hongkong. He has, moreover, come into contact with all sections of the community by associating himself with various local organisations, and has done much in the concord movement to bring Europeans and Chinese together.

His devoted work to the interests of the University needs little emphasising. He has paid visits to North China and Malaya with a view to extending knowledge of the University.

BLOODSHED IN BURMA.

FEARFUL REBEL LOSSES.

FIERCE BATTLES.

Rangoon, Jan. 1.

A battle in the open between rebel tribesmen and troops occurred in the Pashayaw District, where the rebels twice attempted to invade the camps of the Burma Rifles and the Kachin Rifles.

The military repelled with Lewis guns, inflicting extremely heavy casualties on the rebels. All women and children have been removed from Tharavaddy to forest bungalows following a rumoured intended night attack, which did not eventuate.

The villagers in the Tharavaddy District have deserted their homes to join the rebels.—A

MR. SNOWDEN'S BUDGET PROSPECTS.

Unusually Heavy Deficit so Far Recorded.

LAST QUARTER NEEDS.

London, Dec. 31.

The Treasury returns covering a period of nine months ending December 31, show a deficit of £190,200,000, which compares with a deficit of £169,000,000 at the same stage of the financial year twelve months ago.

Mr. Philip Snowden, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, anticipated a net surplus in the full year (till March 31, 1931) of over £2,000,000.

The Budget prospects are therefore, not bright.—Reuter.

branch of the Burmese Red Cross has been opened temporarily at Tharavaddy.

Later, The rebels are adopting guerrilla tactics, including an attempt to demolish a bridge seventy miles from Rangoon. They have damaged the railway line some 73 miles from Rangoon and consequently no trains are being run during the night between Rangoon and Prome. Even mail trains will only be run during the day-time.

Numerous villages have been deserted and the cattle are straying into the paddy-fields. Some of the places are burning.

The presence of rebels is indicated by heavy smoke ascending from the depths of the inaccessible jungle.

It is now estimated that the Lewis-guns at Pashayaw killed a hundred of five hundred men, who attacked the camp.—Reuter.

NATIONAL THRIFT IN BRITAIN.

KING TO BE GIVEN SAVINGS CERTIFICATE.

London, Dec. 31.

The King will be presented next week with a representation of the thousand millionth National Savings Certificate.

The certificate will be numbered and appropriately inscribed. About 117,000 Savings Certificates are sold daily. The purchase price of the thousand million certificates sold since February 1916 when they were first put on the market amounts to £780,000,000. The present weekly average of sales is the highest for many years.—British Wireless.

U.S. MARINES KILLED.

FIGHTING BANDITS IN NICARAGUA.

Washington, Jan. 1.

Eight members of the United States Marine Corps were killed to-day in a fierce encounter with bandits in the mountainous regions of Nicaragua.—Reuter.

FOUR NEW PEERS IN THE HONOURS LIST.

"AUDAX" BECOMES A BARONET.

ART, MUSIC AND SCIENCE DISTINCTIONS.

FORTY KNIGHTHOODS.

London, Jan. 1.

Recognition of distinguished services in the art, music, medical and scientific worlds forms the main feature of the New Year's Honours List, which includes four new peerages, five baronetcies, three Privy Counsellorships, and over forty knightships, including twenty in the Dominions, India and the Colonies.

A number of prominent leaders in the Labour Party have been honoured.

Peerages.

Peerages have been conferred on the following: Sir John Hindley, commercial adviser to the Mines Department since 1918. He is a partner in the firm of Stephenson, Clarke and Co., and was formerly a member of the Coal Controller's Export Advisory Committee.

Sir Ernest Lamb, former Member of Parliament and member of the City of London Corporation since 1903. A noted Free churchman, he is Lay Representative to the Wesleyan Methodist Conference and Treasurer of its Temperance and Social Welfare Department.

Sir William Pender, twice past president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants, who has presided over many committees and Royal Commissions on commercial and financial questions at home and abroad. He was first Independent Chairman of the National Board for the Coal Industry.

Sir Ernest Rutherford, former president of the Royal Society, the well-known physicist and authority on radio activity. He has been Cavendish Professor of Experimental Physics at Cambridge since 1919 and has been awarded numerous medals for his researches.

Baronetcies.

New Baronetcies include: Sir John Bradford, president of the Royal College of Physicians since 1926 and late member of the Senate, University of London. He was George Henry Lewis Scholar, and since entering the medical profession has held many important posts. Served with great distinction in the War and was made C.B. and C.B.E. He has published many papers on Medical and scientific subjects.

Mr. Ernest Dobsonham, a Director of Lloyd's Bank and Royal Exchange Assurance Corporation.

Sir Richard Gregory, the noted Professor of Astronomy of Queen's College, and former president of the Royal Meteorological Society and many other societies. He has written several text-books on physical geography, physiology, experimental science, physics and chemistry.

Sir George May, Member of the Council of the Institute of Actuaries, Secretary to the Prudential Assurance Co. and a Director of the British Overseas Bank.

Mr. George Roberts, who under the pseudonym of "Audax" presented a hundred thousand guineas to the King Edward's Hospital Fund in March 1929 as thank offering for his Majesty King George's recovery from his long illness.

Privy Counsellors.

New Privy Counsellors are: Sir George Perley, a former High Commissioner for Canada and Minister of Overseas Military Forces of Canada. He is now a Minister without portfolio in the Canadian Government.

Mr. Thomas Kennedy, the chief Labour Whip. He was the Scottish Labour Whip in 1921-2, and 1925-6 and has been Chief Whip since 1927. He has represented Kirkcaldy in Parliament since 1921 and is General Secretary of the Social Democratic Federation and Parliamentary Secretary to the Treasury.

Mr. Herbert Morrison, the Minister of Health. He has been a Member of Parliament since 1906.

NEW GOVERNOR OF MACAO.

CAPT. OLIVEIRA TO GET THE POST.

A POPULAR CHOICE.

According to the Journal do Noticias, of Porto, Portugal, Capt. Mattos e Oliveira has been appointed to succeed His Excellency Senator Tamagnini Barbosa as Governor of Macao.

Capt. Oliveira has held the important office of Chief of Staff to the Minister of Marine for the last few years where his administrative ability and happy personality have made him most popular. His appointment to this important position is doubtless partly due to the fact that he was stationed at Macao for some time in command of a gunboat, during which period he made a close study of Chinese life in the Colony.

His Excellency the Governor of Macao, and Madame Barbosa returned to Hongkong to-day by the P. & O. Ranchi from their tour of Japan and the North.

Seen by a representative of the Hongkong Telegraph this morning, the Consul-General for Portugal stated that although he has seen the report referred to above, he has not yet received official confirmation of the appointment.

ESTATE LEFT TO ACTRESS.

SIR SEFTON BRANCKER'S SOLE BEQUEST.

FLYING COMPANION.

London, Dec. 31.

The will of Sir Sefton Brancker, who perished in the R.101 disaster, has passed for probate. The testator bequeathed the whole of his estate, amounting to £5,044 (net personality) to Miss Auriol Lee, the actress-producer.

The will is dated August 22, 1927. It recalls that his widow would be granted a pension of £300 per annum by the Air Ministry.

There was one son of the marriage, who is now twenty years of age.

It may be recalled that Miss Auriol Lee, who is fifty years of age and who is now engaged in the production of talking pictures at Hollywood, was the first woman to fly across the Equator, in the course of a flight with Sir Sefton Brancker to Kenya Colony.

While in England, she frequently flew with the late Sir Sefton.—Reuter.

IRISH FREE STATE RATIFIES.

LONDON NAVAL TREATY NOW IN FORCE.

London, Dec. 31.

The King's Instrument of Ratification, in respect of the Irish Free State, of the London Naval Treaty of 1930 was deposited to-day at the Foreign Office by the High Commissioner for the Free State in London, and the Treaty is, therefore, now in force.—British Wireless.

Washington, Jan. 1. President Hoover has formally proclaimed the enforcement of the London Naval Treaty.—Reuter's American Service.

HINDU CASTE FEUD AT JALGAON.

FOUR UNTOUCHABLES ARRESTED.

Jalgaon, Dec. 31.

The Untouchables at Jalgaon this morning resumed their passive resistance tactics, squatting at the entrance to the All-India Hindu Conference.

The police were again summoned and on this occasion, four of the invaders, who had succeeded in forcing an entrance, were placed under arrest.—Reuter.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 1. An Argentine has been charged with authorising the Gold Office to sell gold to be employed in exchange operations, carried out by the Argentine Government.—Reuter's American Service.

SOUTH AFRICA ON TOP IN SECOND TEST.

ENGLISH BOWLERS FLOGGED.

RECORD PARTNERSHIP FOR FIRST WICKET.

CLOSE: 230 FOR 1.

Capetown, Jan. 1. With one victory already to their credit, South Africa made a brilliant start in the Second Test against England which opened at Capetown this morning. The English bowling was severely thrashed, and it was not until the last ten minutes that the opening partnership was broken.

Mitchell and Siedle put on 260 runs for the first wicket and at the close of play, South Africa had scored 280 for 1 wicket.

Play opened in sunny weather before a crowd of seven thousand. The wicket was worthy of the description good, and was on turf, which was thought to favour England's chances.

Bright Opening. H. G. Dennis, South Africa's skipper, beat Arthur Chapman in the spin of the coin and elected to bat, sending in Mitchell and Siedle to open the innings.

At the lunch interval, the men had thoroughly settled down and seemed worried by repeated bowling changes. Siedle scored a trifle more rapidly than his partner and in a total of 79, his contribution was 42, while Mitchell had obtained 35.

New Record. The batsmen assumed the upper hand after lunch. Mitchell was responsible for some beautiful classic strokes, and the score mounted steadily, neither player taking any risks.

They set up a new record for the South African first wicket just before tea. The old record was 171, made by Catterall and Mitchell at Edgbaston in 1929.

The score at the ten interval was 175. Of these, Siedle had score 96, and Mitchell 77.

Both Get Centuries. Subsequently both batsmen obtained their centuries and incidentally obtained their highest individual scores in Test matches.

They defied the English bowling, which was not at all bad, until eight minutes before the close of play, when they were within nine runs of beating the first wicket partnership for England-South Africa matches, 268, scored by Hobbs and Sutcliffe at Lord's in 1924.

Closing Incident. With Mitchell's score at 111, Siedle was splendidly taken by Chapman, holding at mid-on, off J. C. White. Siedle had obtained 141 in 238 minutes in a sterling display, his total including thirteen boundary hits.

Nupen joined Mitchell and in the last eight minutes, they put on twenty additional runs, Nupen claiming twelve of them.

Although Mitchell was slower than Siedle, he gave a most attractive display of batting, completely without chance.

The scores are appended: S. AFRICA—1ST INNINGS.

Mitchell not out ..... 119
Siedle, c Chapman, b White ..... 141
Nupen not out ..... 12
Extras ..... 8

INQUEST ON SERGT. J. J. POST.

STATEMENTS REGARDING AMBULANCE DELAY.

An inquest on Lance Sergeant J. J. Post, who died as the result of a motor-cycle mishap in Lower Albert Road on Christmas Day, was held by Mr. Lindsay at the Central Magistracy, on Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. I. Newton stated that the deceased was admitted into the Government Civil Hospital in a deeply unconscious condition, but became semi-conscious the following day. He muttered to himself but was entirely incoherent.

A post mortem examination on December 28, disclosed a fracture at the base of the skull and considerable laceration of the brain. There was also an abrasion on the left knee cap.

No Ambulance.

Mr. J. Harrop stated that at 2.45 p.m. on Christmas Day, he was proceeding up Ice House Street, approaching the top of the slope, when he saw a crowd of Chinese grouped around a European in mufti. A great quantity of congealed blood was on the roadway. He was informed by one of the crowd that an ambulance had been sent for, but was not available.

Witness sent his car on to the Central Police Station to make a report later following the car himself. On the way he met a car going eastwards in the direction of the scene of the accident. He called to a policeman whom he saw in the car that, if he knew anything about first-aid, his services were required round the corner. The man apparently understood him, but when witness returned to the scene no policeman or car was there. Nor did he find any ambulance. After waiting four or five minutes, and recognizing the urgency of the case, witness said he had the injured man conveyed in his car to the Government Civil Hospital. He then went to the Central Police Station where he reported the accident.

Mr. Lindsay: As a Coroner, I have to state my opinion, that your action in this case has been very praiseworthy.

Sergeant A. Kinnair said he was in his quarters at the Central Police Station, when, at 2.45 p.m., he was sent for by Sub-Inspector McWalter on charge-room duty. On the latter's instructions he went on foot to Lower Albert Road, accompanied by a Chinese detective.

At a spot 80 yards east of the top of Ice House St. he found a motor-cycle solo, No. 1132. It was lying on its right side on the outer side of the road, with the front wheel across the gutter. He learned that the injured man had been removed to the Government Civil Hospital. The cycle was in neutral, between second and third gear.

Replying to the Coroner, witness said that on being sent for he proceeded straight to the scene of the accident without any delay.

One Ambulance Under Repair.
Sub-Inspector G. R. McWalter said he was on charge-room duty, when, at 2.40 p.m., a Chinese came in and made a report of the accident. Prior to that he had received no news of it. He sent for Sergeant Kinnair and instructed him to proceed to the scene. At the same time he rang up the Fire Brigade and was informed that one ambulance was out and the other under repairs. He also learned that the Fire Brigade had already been informed of the accident and had sent for the Tung Wah Hospital ambulance. He recognized the cycle as belonging to P. C. Doyle. Earlier that day, he had seen Sergeant Post leaving the Station on it.

Witness informed the Traffic Department accordingly. Between 8 o'clock that morning and 9 a.m. the following day Sergeant Post was down for Traffic Reserve duty. At noon, he asked witness for permission to go out, but arranged with witness that if he was required, he could be sent for over the telephone at the Wanchai

Police Station.

Mr. P. Blundell said that Sergeant Post, with two other officers, visited him that day at No. 1, Ventris Road. They stayed for about 20 minutes and Sgt. Post had a small whisky before he left the house. He was then perfectly sober. During the period that he knew Sergeant Post, witness had known him as a very sober man indeed.

Acting Sub-Inspector E. A. Post, deceased's brother, said the deceased visited him in his quarters at the No. 2 Station that day, when the deceased had a small whisky, and was perfectly sober when he left. Witness had never seen him under the influence of liquor.

Another Police witness said Sergeant Post had been riding P. C. Doyle's machine a number of times, and had never had any difficulty with it. The inquiry was adjourned until 11.30 to-morrow morning.

PEA-SHOOTING AT THE SUN.

WHERE A TON WOULD WEIGH 2LBS.

(By Dr. R. L. Waterfield, F.R.A.S.)

The little planet Eros, whose record close approach to the earth is now attracting so much attention, is behaving in a most remarkable way. As at its last approach, in 1900, it is undergoing large and rapid variations in brightness.
But whereas in 1900 it doubled its brightness and faded again in five hours, it now goes through its variations twice in that period.

Now, so great a light variation can only mean one thing; that this little world, instead of having the orthodox celestial shape that approximates to a nice smooth billiard ball, is actually a gigantic craggy and precipitous boulder. As it rotates on its axis it presents to us sometimes a comparatively smooth surface that catches the sunlight and reflects it back to us, and sometimes the mouth of a great chasm, one side of which is in deep shadow.

Life On Eros.

To explain fact that its light variations change from time to time, as between now and 1900 it has been suggested that Eros does not rotate regularly on its axis, but, so to speak, just tumbles around its orbit—rather like a boulder bounding down a precipice.
But the explanation is wrong;
whatever shape Eros may have it must rotate regularly.

The real cause of the changing light variation is that when the planet is north of the earth it turns one hemisphere, towards us, and when it is south of the earth it turns the other hemisphere towards us. The irregularities in the shape of the two hemispheres are probably quite different and hence the light reflected from them will vary in brightness differently according to which hemisphere it presents.

To live on Eros would be an amazing experience. Eros is probably less than 20 miles in diameter;
but it would not be at all the same thing as living on a desert island of the same size.

Weight Reducing.

An object which weighs a ton on the earth would only weigh about 2lb. on Eros; you could lift it easily with one hand. You might think that life on Eros would, therefore, be a very easygoing affair—digging ditches would be child's play. But you would be very easily mistaken.
You yourself would weigh so little that you would have difficulty in keeping your feet on the ground.
And if, at Christmas-time, you happened to "jump with glee," you would just shoot up in the air and disappear for ever into space. You could literally flick flies off Eros with your fingers, and with a blow-pipe and a few peas you could shoot peas all the way to the sun.

But if interplanetary communication become fashionable Eros is scarcely likely to be a favourite resort. For the weight problem is quite fatal to an atmosphere. If it ever had any air or water—which is excessively improbable—it must have all evaporated and blown away within a few hours.

An Important Visitor.

Nevertheless, Eros is now a most important little world; for, as we explained in a previous article, by coming closer to the earth next month than any body except the moon has ever done, it will enable us to determine more accurately than ever before the distance of the sun. And this will give us the scale of our solar system and the length of the sounding-line with which we measure the depths of the universe.

WHY "TOTE" IS NOT MORE POPULAR.THE "RELUCTANCE TO PAY CASH."

London, Dec. 4.
The "inborn reluctance" of English people to pay cash was referred to by Lord D'Abernon, when he dealt with the development of the Totalisator at the annual meeting of the Thoroughbred Breeders' Association.

He said that he estimated that the £3,000,000 passing through the Toto this year represented less than two per cent. of the total money which changed hands yearly in this country in betting. "If you ask why the 'Toto' has not so far gained a larger proportion of the total turnover," he added,
"the answer is the inborn reluctance of every true Briton to pay cash."

"If we wish the 'Toto' to be a great success, special measures will have to be taken to overcome the strong tendency in human nature to avoid cash payment."

ALLEGED CONTENT OF COURT.

A motion to commit the Hon.
Herbert Eaton, of Englefield
Green, Surrey, brother of Lord Cheylesmore, for contempt of Court, came before a King's Bench Divisional Court consisting of Justices Avory, Swift, and Acton, on Dec. 3.

Mr. Alchin said that Mr. Alfred Seymour Wood, who lived at Egham, alleged that he was instructed to serve a writ upon Mr.
Eaton concerning a sum claimed respecting the purchase of a car.
Mr. Wood alleged that Mr. Eaton seized him with both hands, saying: "This is a hospital case," and literally threw him out of the house.

Mr. Paull, for Mr. Eaton, said that his client desired to apologise for what he did. The position was that Mr. Eaton had not only paid what was due, but, also a sum which was not due, and after he had done so, he was "served with the writ." Unfortunately, he lost his temper, took Mr. Wood by the coat lapels, and shook him. It was not suggested that Mr. Wood was hurt.

Mr. Justice Avory said that there was no doubt that upon the affidavit, a contempt of court had been committed, but in view of the circumstances, the Court thought that justice would be done by ordering the defendant to pay the costs.

He was Commander-in-Chief of the Home and Atlantic Fleets in 1919. First and Principal Naval A.D.C. to the King between 1922-24 and promoted Admiral of the Fleet in 1924. He receives the Order for distinguished services in peace and war.

Mr. Philip Steer, in recognition of this position in the art world. He is a member of the New English Art Club, and honorary member of the Liverpool Academy of Arts. He is recognised as one of the most prominent painters and teachers in the Art World.

Knightships.

New knights include:
Mr. Norman Angell, Labour M.P. for North Bradford since 1929. He is the Editor of Foreign Affairs and author of the Great Illusion and other works. He has been a cowboy, a gold prospector, and a journalist. His book "The Great Illusion" has been published in seventeen languages, including Chinese.

Dr. E. Graham Little M.P. for London University since 1924. He is a member of the Senate of the University. Physician in charge of the Skin Department at St. Mary's hospital and Consulting Physician to the East London Hospital for children.

Dr. John B. McEwen, Principal of the Royal Academy of Music since 1924, and Professor of Harmony and Composition for 25 years prior to 1924.

Professor William Rothenstein, Principal of the Royal College of Art since 1920. Trustee of the National Gallery of Millbank and one of the official artists to the British and Canadian Armies during the Great War.

Mr. James Sexton, M.P. for St. Helens since 1918. He is a prominent member of the Labour Party and for nearly forty years has been secretary of the National Union of Dock Labourers. He went to sea at the age of thirteen and is the author of some novels and plays.

Mr. Conrad Naef, Accountant General of the Navy since 1921, in which department he has served since 1895.

Mr. Robert Young, who has been Labour M.P. for the Newton Division of Lancashire since 1919. During Labour's first term of office he was Chairman of Committees and Deputy-Speaker. He has been General Secretary of the Amalgamated Engineers' Union.

Mr. David Owen, the General Manager of the Port of London Authority.

Mr. Hugh Robertson, Founder of the Glasgow Orpheus Choir.

Mr. William Goodchild, Secretary to the British Delegation to the Reparations Commission.

ledge of the facilities provided by the Colony's major educational institution and securing funds on its behalf.

Boxer Indemnity Effects.

But transcending his activities in this connexion may be mentioned the tremendous amount of work which he put in, both through the local Government and by special visits to London, to secure for the University a share in the Boxer Indemnity Fund. Happily, his labours in this respect have been crowned with success, and it may be presumed that in the conferring of his Knightship the circumstances have been particularly taken into account.

Nearly Seven Years. Here.

Sir William arrived in Hongkong to take over the Vice-Chancellorship in February 1924, in succession to Sir William Brunyate. He was previously in the Indian Educational Service for many years, with an interval at the Board of Education in London, and immediately prior to coming to Hongkong was Director of Public Instruction in India. He received the C.I.E. decoration in 1918. He is a brother of Mr. E. B. C. Hornell, former Secretary of the China Sugar Refinery Company. The whole Colony will join with us in sincere congratulation to our new Knight.

Mr. E. W. Carpenter, O.B.E.

Mr. Edgar William Carpenter will also be the recipient of many congratulations on the honour which has been conferred on him and which he so warmly deserves. He has been for nearly thirty years in the service of the Government, during which time he has rendered yeoman service to the Colony. He was appointed Assistant Engineer in the P.W.D. in April, 1901, and by successive steps has risen to the important position of Assistant Director of Public Works. He was for some time in charge of the Drainage Department, but has for some years been Assistant Director with special reference to Kowloon and the New Territories.

In 1926, he was a member of the Bathing Beaches Resources Committee and in 1929 was a member of the Labour Advisory Board and Water Emergency Officer in connexion with the water shortage crisis, rendering extremely valuable services.

During his lengthy residence in the Colony, he has made innumerable friends, and has been especially associated with the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club, of which he has been Commodore. A hard worker and a man of sterling qualities, he was well earned the honour which now falls to him.

Sergt. Maj. W. H. Edmonds, M.B.E. Sergeant Major William Harold Edmonds, who gets the M.B.E. decoration, has for many years been prominently associated with the Volunteer Defence Corps, in which he has long held his present rank, whilst during the absence of Mr. Westlake on leave he has acted as Corps Sergeant Major.

He is extremely popular amongst all who have come into contact with him, and the honour now conferred is a mark of his extremely valuable services. He arrived in the Colony in February, 1911, on being appointed Second Class Overseer in the P.W.D., and in 1914 was promoted First Class Overseer. Ten years later, he became Senior Overseer, and in 1925 the title was altered to that of Inspector of Works.

Mr. Walter Kent.

The honour conferred on Mr. Walter Kent, A.S.P., marks the conclusion of a lengthy career with the Hongkong Police, which began in 1898, when he was appointed constable in the Force. He became Sergeant in 1904, Second-Class Inspector in 1914, and full Inspector in 1919.

He was for a time Inspector in charge of the Traffic Department,

CINEMA NOTES.

"THE DIVINE LADY" AT MAJESTIC.

Possibly never before on the screen have so many famous historical characters been depicted in one picture as in "The Divine Lady," First National's big production starring Corinne Griffith, now showing at the Majestic Theatre, Kowloon. With one or two minor exceptions, every character in the picture is an actual historical personage. Moreover, their actual existences have not been tampered with in the slightest degree for the sake of the story.

Lady Hamilton and Lord Nelson, played by Miss Griffith and Victor Varconi, are the principal characters. H. B. Warner has the role of Lord Hamilton, Ambassador to Naples. Then there are such famous personages as the Duchess of Argyll, the King and Queen of Naples, the King and Queen of England, Napoleon, George Romney, the painter, Edmund Burke, Sir William Pitt and many other statesmen and members of the royalty of that time.

"The Divine Lady," a screen version of E. Barrington's novel of Nelson, was directed by Frank Lloyd as First National's biggest production of the year.

"In Gay Madrid."

Ramon Novarro is starred in the current attraction at the Queen's Theatre, entitled "In Gay Madrid." This is a dramatic romance, in which the eternal triangle comes in for treatment. The play runs along conventional lines, but it is made attractive by the excellence of the production, the splendid acting and some quite tuneful music. Ramon Novarro is the part of a young blood who is packed off to a small city in order that he may be cut off from the gay life of Madrid. Of course, he falls in love and there are the customary complications and misunderstandings, ending in a duel which, however, does not prove a sufficiently serious affair to interfere with the happy ending of the story.

In his love-making, his dramatic acting and his vocal numbers, Ramon Novarro is really excellent, whilst Dorothy Jordan plays opposite to him with much effect. All the other parts are in good hands, and the production is one which is sure to satisfy.

Besides the main film, there is an excellent news reel, in one of them which Mr. Baldwin gives his views on dumping, as well as a clever little study by Gertrude Lawrence entitled "Early Mourning."

AN ARCHBISHOP'S RETORT.

MIXED MARRIAGES.

Dr. Downey, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool, has issued a strongly worded reply to the statement by Dr. David, Bishop of Liverpool, on mixed marriages.

"The Bishop," Dr. Downey said, "has been asked for proof of two charges which he made against the Catholic Church in Liverpool. He has said that priests in Liverpool have denied the validity of mixed marriages and the legitimacy of children of mixed marriages in English law. By way of proof he cites five cases, where priests have denied the validity of such marriages in Canon law. What is the sense in this?

"He cites one case of a priest declaring children of a mixed marriage illegitimate. I shall investigate the case at once."

"Part of his Lordship's pronouncements emits more heat than light. The statement, that the Roman Church reserves this weapon of fear for the unlearned and the poor is as beneath contempt as it is incapable of proof."

SWEETSTAKES FOR HOSPITALS.

The recent legalisation of sweepstakes, within certain limits, by the Hongkong Government invests with interest the efforts which are being made at home along the same lines. We read in London newspapers that the Appeal Director of St. Bartholomew's Hospital has been approached with a view to running a big sweepstake on the lines of that recently conducted on behalf of Irish Hospitals. That sweepstake was run in connexion with an English Turf event, the November Handicap, but it could not be held in England, as the law there prohibits such methods of raising money. In Ireland, however, conditions are otherwise.

According to the St. Bart's official, prompt legalisation for a limited number of controlled schemes seems not only to be desirable but absolutely necessary. He says he has been approached by interests in a position to guarantee a prize fund up to half a million sterling, and he sees no reason why hospitals should not be permitted to benefit from such a method. It is evident, from the expressions of opinion in the newspapers, that the general public is very desirous of having the law affecting lotteries and sweepstakes altered. In the November Handicap thirty people divided £400,000 allotted as prizes in the Irish Free State Sweepstake. From this sweepstake, mainly financed by English money and concerning a race run in England by English jockeys, over £120,000 was rendered available for distribution amongst Irish hospitals. It is not surprising, therefore, that English people should be asking why sweepstakes are not legalised in England. It is evident that English people do engage in sweepstakes, in spite of Post Office and other Government restrictions. It is also true that English hospitals are in need of money, and that they could easily secure it by this method. In this connexion, a prominent hospital official has mooted a scheme for raising money by a big British sweepstake abroad, but people would naturally prefer that it should be run in England. However, a questionnaire is being issued as a preliminary step to test public feeling, and if the response is favourable, as it must certainly will be, it is hoped that the Government may consider the institution of State lotteries from which hospitals and other deserving causes would draw a proportion of the funds. Some people object to the idea of the Government making revenue out of "tainted" money, but, strangely enough, they do not object to the duties imposed on liquor.

Here in Hongkong, as the law stands, there is now no bar to hospitals or other charitable organisations raising money by means of sweepstakes, provided they first receive official permission, and we can see no reason why big annual schemes of this nature should not be instituted in place of some of the existing methods of securing funds. We cannot, on the other hand, envisage the Government running lotteries itself, although as an alternative means of raising funds and giving the public the benefit of possible large winnings, the Premium Bond scheme would have much to commend it. Despite all that may be said, the fact has to be recognised, both here and at home, that the gambling instinct cannot be wholly suppressed by law, and, within well-controlled limits, we can see no harm accruing from well-conducted sweepstakes on behalf of deserving causes. In due course, no doubt the English law on the subject will undergo considerable modification, especially since Governments have not objected in the past to raising revenue by means of betting taxes.

SCHNEIDER RACE ENTRIES.

FRANCE COMES IN AT THE LAST MINUTE.

BRITISH STIMULUS.

Paris, Dec. 31.

The French Aero Club has notified the entering of three seaplanes in the 1931 Schneider Trophy Competition. The entries were made to-day, the last date for the receipt.

An official of the club said that it was not yet possible to give a description of the machines.

London, Dec. 31.

Italy, Great Britain and France have now entered for the Schneider Trophy Race. The United States has given no indication of her intention to compete.

The Royal Aero Club to-day received the entry on behalf of France of three seaplanes for Schneider Race.

Britain holds the trophy having captured it from Italy in 1927 at Venice and held it in 1929 against the only competitor Italy.

If Britain wins the coming race, in which France and Italy are challengers, she secures the Trophy outright. — Reuter and British Wireless.

ENGLISHMEN DO NOT LIKE ORIGINALITY IN A WOMAN; THEY PREFER THEIR FEMALE BELONGINGS TO BE TURNED OUT ALL ON THE SAME PATTERN, LIKE FIDELITY'S OUT OF A MOULD. — Lady Gage.

The R.M.S. Empress of Canada left Yokohama on the 1st Jan. and is due at Vancouver on the 9th Jan.

An apprentice carpenter of 60, Parkes Street, Yau-mat, was removed to the Kwong Wah Hospital yesterday suffering from injuries received by being assaulted by an unemployed Chinese who was armed with a chopper.

A report has been made to the Kowloon City Police, by Mr. G. B. Labrum, that thieves entered his residence, No. 5, York Road, Kowloon Tong, between the hours of midnight and 7 a.m. on the 31st December and stole property to the value of $100.

In a report to the police yesterday, Mrs. F. P. da Silva, of 3, Observatory Villas, stated that between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. on New Year's Day somebody fired a small metal missile or a bullet from an airgun or catapult through her bedroom window, causing damage to the extent of $1.

The list of naval promotions for the half-year has been issued. The local names include: Lieut.-Comdr. A. F. de Salis of H.M.S. Kent who is to be Commander, and Paymaster Comdr. C. S. Johnson, D.S.O., also of H.M.S. Kent, who is to be Pay Captain. Lieut.-Comdr. S. N. Blackburn, who brought H.M.S. Vindictive last year, has been promoted to Commander.

HIGH JINKS AT THE KOWLOON F.C.

HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL NEW YEAR CARNAVAL.

Undoubtedly the most successful New Year's Day carnival of the many organised by the Kowloon Football Club, yesterday's frolics at the Club's grounds provided endless amusement for a very large crowd.

Sir Circumference De Tong having apparently by divers means become a naturalised Scotman, appeared in full regalia, and carried out the duties of Master of Ceremonies with his usual aplomb, whatever that may mean. The fancy dress football match created sufficient diversion to cause complete forgetfulness as to the state of the score, and the officials in serious conference afterwards decided that the Single men had managed to draw.

The motor-cycle football provided a thrilling encounter, the Volunteers winning by six goals to two after Kowloon had obtained the opening goal. The Club will send for auction shortly spare motor-cycle parts (slightly damaged).

The raffish were immensely popular. The winners were Mr. Revie (a case of beer presented by Messrs. Calbeck, McGregor), Mr. Russell (a scooter, presented by Messrs. Lane, Crawford), and Miss Farrell (a case of whisky, presented by Messrs. Gande, Price). It is understood that Miss Farrell became immediately popular. — K.

HANNEN SWAFFER'S NEW ROLE.

By A. J. CUMMINGS.

HANNEN SWAFFER is to be the great new force in English spiritualism.

Yes, Hannen Swaffer, the wild man who roams about the world of dramatic criticism armed with a bludgeon and does not mind a slap or two in return—he, Swaffer, has been chosen to succeed Sir Arthur Conan Doyle as prophet, priest and king.

He would deny this. But, anyway, he is now honorary president both of the Spiritualist Community and of the Spiritualist National Union; and the latter boasts over 450 churches.

It is in many ways a remarkable position. There are no formal offices, no graded privileges, no articles of faith, no costly churches in this now, strangely familiar, age-long religion which is now infiltrating its pervasive influence into all the spiritual communions and stealing behind the armour of agnosticism itself.

Hannen Swaffer will derive all his authority from his own personality and the trust and goodwill of the faithful.

Speaking with the deference due from an outsider, I think he will make good. Those who may imagine that he communes with spirits merely as an exciting stunt, or merely to obtain a novel setting for the display of his versatile gifts, are surely mistaken. After half an hour's conversation with the new prophet, the bare idea was dismissed from my mind as unworthy and unjust.

It was less a conversation than an impassioned monologue. For half an hour Hannen Swaffer, armed, extended and eyes gleaming, gave forth the faith that was in him in a torrent of eloquence and with a flaming intensity that would have put many dead revivalists to shame. He was not trying to convince or convert me. He was answering a question, stating a case.

The question I asked was: "Are the spiritualists increasing rapidly in numbers?"

"We do not want to increase our numbers in the sense you mean," was the unexpected reply. "Religionists of all kinds come to us and go back; large numbers of us, to their own churches or to other churches, carrying with them something they have gained—a new experience, a new understanding, a new attitude to life."

"Do not confuse us or our aims with the organised churches. The first church ever built was Christianity's worst blunder. We do not make converts to kneel on the penitents' bench. We have something vital to give to all men and all churches. It is psychic knowledge and psychic power which will ultimately regenerate the universe; abolishing cruelty, war, misery and injustice."

"Psychic power is latent in all of us. It must be so, for man is a spirit and the body is but his case-moment. In some of us it may develop in a day; in others long years may elapse before the quest is gained."

"It is amazing how many men and women everywhere in all conditions of life have psychic experiences that journalists never hear of. For many are afraid to tell."

"An Anglican clergyman told me the other day that he knew scores of ministerial colleagues who had confessed to definite experiences of this kind, but 'dare not mention them in the pulpit. Sir Oliver Lodge, though a spiritualist, hesites to come on to our platform. Lord Haig was a spiritualist. And Mr. Swaffer rolled off the names of many famous men who had made the great discovery. Upon Sinclair was now, he said, on the fringe of it—examining his own wife's mediumship."

David Bolasco admitted the whole case and ascribed part of his powers as a producer to spirit aid; Master-Jinck, who had written part of the case into "The Blue Bird" and its sequel, had come out boldly; Lombroso, the great Italian criminologist, had gone the whole hog. It was hard to know where to begin and end.

"Yes," he said, in answer to another question, "the direct voice is simple enough if the right conditions are present. Messages are being showered upon us daily; only a few get through the barrier. Every night before I go to sleep I am greeted with a tap on the wall, always wherever I am, the same distinctive tap, without relation to the thickness or texture of the wall. There may be such taps to you, but if you are insensitive you will never hear them."

Some persons, I understood Mr. Swaffer to suggest, are so insensitive that they do not even know when they are dead—or, as one should say, passed over.

Rudolph Valentino, the film star, for example, Mr. Swaffer told me that Valentino, after passing over, ran along the streets, not of the celestial city, but of the Broadway, New York, crying miserably upon all his friends and acquaintances to speak to him. He did not know he was dead.

Another little-known piece of psychic information is that as soon as it is ascertained in the spirit world that a seance is to be held on this lower plane there are careful preparations on the other side to make it, if possible, a success.

The stage is set, so to speak; and all the lighting and other effects are thoroughly and sympathetically organised. And there is a very earthly scramble to take part.

"Spirits are so eager to get through," said Mr. Swaffer, "that when the news of a coming seance is received spirit queues are immediately formed."

In the Queue.

I wanted to know if there was any jostling in the queue; whether, indeed, spirit queues are at all closely related to our familiar physical queues. The answer seems to be that over the border they are thought-queues. There you see, feel, taste and smell with the mind. Jostling is the crude expression of an unenlightened materialist.

One was glad to learn from Mr. Swaffer that the Great War was a deadly grief as well as a grave embarrassment to the spirit world. Hundreds of thousands of the slain passed over unready for the change and pathetically bewildered; and the ministering spirits found these sad newcomers unusually difficult to handle.

It is for reasons such as these, says Mr. Swaffer, that the spirit world objects with all its strength to capital punishment, which despiritualises not only those who are responsible, directly and indirectly, but sends the victim into the next world sullen and angry, so that he returns to exact vengeance.

"I Held My Peace."

It objects to all conceivable forms of cruelty for the same reasons. Its mission is one of peace and beauty, and benevolence and love.

Ignorance is the curse of God; and it is my misfortune that I am puzzled over Rudolph Valentino's strange behaviour after death and that I cannot think of those funny spirit queues in the planes above without the usual smile of incredulous folly.

But as one listened to Mr. Swaffer's electrifying exposition of a philosophy at once comforting and sublime, it would have seemed almost a profanity to intrude a doubt or demand a proof, and humbly I held my peace.

I could appreciate what he meant when he said that he had lost the capacity for fear in the moral world. I can understand also why so many thousands flock to hear him in this country and abroad when he reveals well, whatever it is that spiritualists leaders do reveal.

MR. PARKER GILBERT TO JOIN MORGAN'S.

New York, Dec. 31.
It is disclosed that Mr. Parker Gilbert, former Agent-General for Republicanism in Germany, is becoming a partner in the famous banking firm of J.P. Morgan & Co., New York.

"She came running out and said we should hold this until we had the little Eric to sleep."

HINDUS ON LEAGUE PRECEDENT.

MINORITY PROBLEMS OF INDIA.

DISCUSSION AT THE ROUND TABLE CONFERENCE.

THE N.W. FRONTIER.

London, Dec. 31. At the Round Table Conference to-day the Prime Minister presided over a meeting of the Minorities sub-committee, at which views were expressed on behalf of several of the smaller minority communities, including the Indian Christians, with special reference to the Catholic section, the Parsees, the Anglo-Indians and the European business community.

The Committee then began consideration of the attitude of the large minorities which will be continued to-morrow.

A meeting of the Federal Structure Sub-Committee, under Lord Sankey, this afternoon discussed the desirability of reserving special seats in the legislature for representatives of certain classes with special interests. This was followed by a general discussion as to the methods by which representatives of the federal legislature should be chosen.

Federal Legislature.

In some quarters it was advocated that the members of Upper House of Legislature should be chosen by the Provincial Legislatures and those of the lower by direct election.

In another quarter the view was expressed that direct election to both houses should apply, notwithstanding difficulties in the way of carrying out an election.

Another view was that a definite opinion on this point should be postponed until the powers and functions of the two houses and the relations of the Legislature to the Executive were decided.

One of the British delegates suggested that the upper house should be a Chamber representative of the governments of the federal units and that the lower should be representative of the provincial legislatures. The discussion will continue on Friday.

Hindu-Muslim Differences.

London, Jan. 1. The Minorities sub-committee of the Conference this morning continued its discussion on the Hindu-Muslim differences. On behalf of the Hindus it was suggested that the method whereby the League of Nations had dealt with the European minorities questions, offered a precedent for India.

In dealing with European minorities, the principle has been accepted that they should be so defined and treated as not to destroy the unity of the state. The majority in India were prepared to give the minorities the greatest measure of protection on the lines adopted by the League and to give freedom for the exercise and development of their religion, race, language and culture.

An appeal was made to pool interests for the good of the new India.

For the Moslem minority, it was stated that the principle of weightage has been regarded as necessary throughout the history of the treatment of minorities in India and had worked well. The process of evolution might make joint electorates possible but meanwhile they relied on the former pledges that separate electorates would remain unless relinquished voluntarily. As to the League precedent conditions in India were entirely different.

N. W. Frontier Report.

The report of the sub-committee on the North West frontier province showed unanimity on the urgent need for reform. It recommends that the five administered districts should cease to be, as they are at present, a centrally administered territory under the direct control of the Government of India and that they should be given the status of a Governor's province, subjects to such adjustment of detail as local circumstances require.

The Sub-committee recommends that the Executive consist of a Governor, assisted by the advice of two Ministers, drawn from among the non-official members of the Legislature, at least one of whom shall be elected. Also recommended a unicameral Legislative Council with a membership not more than forty consisting of elected and nominated elements the latter not to exceed fourteen out of the forty, and of these not more than six to eight officials.

K.C.C. CHILDREN'S SPORTS.

NEW YEAR FUNCTION BIG SUCCESS.

LADY PEEL PRESENT.

It was children's day at the Kowloon Cricket Club yesterday when hundreds attended the club grounds to take part in the sports that are held there every New Year's Day. A bright sun added to the pleasure of the afternoon, which passed off without a hitch. As usual, adults were there in large numbers, and found plenty to occupy their attention in the many races, side-shows and the band of H.M.S. Suffolk.

The President of the Club (Mr. R. E. Lindsell) before calling on Lady Peel to present the prizes, said that that afternoon, the 25th annual sports, had undoubtedly been the most successful they had held. He wished to emphasise the fact that the events were not closed to Kowloon children only, but were open to all in the Colony. He thanked the many generous contributors to the prize fund and declared that the meeting was held entirely on voluntary subscriptions. It was rather invidious to make particular mention, but he desired to thank Mr. J. H. Taggart, but for whose generous donation year after year, the club would have had to cut down the prizes. He thanked the many helpers who had helped to make the function a success, and also Lady Peel on consenting to present the prizes.

Among the many people who were present were Lady Peel, and Mr. G. W. Tufton (private secretary to H. E. the Governor), Rt. Rev. C. R. Duppuy (Bishop of Victoria), Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Dyer and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Kotewall. Results:

FOUND STABBED.

BODY OF CHINESE IN KOWLOON GODOWN.

Stabbed through the heart, the body of Leung Muk, aged 30, a scaman employed on a lighter, was found in No. 3 Godown of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company Limited, on Wednesday night. The case is obviously one of the murder.

The body was found by godown coolies about 7 p.m., and the Tsimshatsui Police Station was immediately informed. The man was lying on his back, with a wound in his left breast, evidently inflicted with a sharp weapon. The heart had been penetrated.

Little is known of the murdered man except that he lived on the lighter on which he was employed. Police can find no motive for the deed.

Thirteen candidates presented themselves for confirmation at Egham. The vicar cancelled the confirmation—thirteen, he said, was too few for so large a parish.

CANADA LOOKING TO FAR EAST.

DEVELOPMENT OF WHEAT EXPORT MARKETS.

MR. BENNETT'S VIEWS.

Ottawa, Dec. 31. A reference to the prospects of the Imperial Economic Conference next year was made by the Prime Minister at Regina, Saskatchewan, to-day in his first public speech since his return from London.

Dealing with the grain marketing problem, Mr. Bennett forecast the creation of a financial corporation, with the backing of the Canadian Government, to assist the distressed farmers, particularly in the direction of adopting mixed farming.

He announced a guarantee by the French Government for the purchase of from seven to nine million bushels of this year's crop, and said that negotiations have been opened, under the Federal Credit Guarantee Act, for enlarging the market for Canadian grain and other products in China and elsewhere in the East.

He added that the Federal Government considered that the United States' policy of fixing wheat

Interesting Pictures To-Morrow.

There will be many pictures of topical interest in to-morrow's issue of the Telegraph Art Supplement.

These will include several taken at the New Territories Agricultural Show, groups of the English and Scottish football teams which met on Christmas Day, and the game between China and Portugal, the Christmas party at the Water Police Station, the Rugby match between England and the Rest, and the visit of officers of the Spanish naval training ship to the Spanish Procurator.

The Fanling Hunt meeting will be illustrated, and there will also be a group of the Committee of the Kowloon Bowling Green Club.

Weddings illustrated will be those of Lieut. G. Wolfe-Barry and Miss Constance Cree, Mr. Y. S. Chan and Miss J. Choi, and Mr. Reginald Jan See-chin and Miss Myrtle Quin-jan.

There will also be a fine picture taken at the annual dinner of the China Association in London, showing several past and present residents of Hongkong among the guests.

prices was uneconomic. The main hope for wheat in Canada was the development of export markets, particularly in the Far East. Mr. Bennett said he believed that as a result of the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa in the Autumn agreements for mutually broader Empire marketing would be initiated.—Reuter's American Service.

A PARENTAL PROBLEM.

MAN WISHES TO KNOW NAME OF MOTHER.

Stockholm, Nov. 26. The Swedish Government will soon have to decide the intricate problem of a Swedish subject, aged fifty-three, who has applied for information as to who his mother was. In 1877 an unknown lady was delivered of a boy in the Swedish parish of Virestad, and after a short stay there she left for abroad. Before her departure she gave a sealed letter to the vicar of the church, with instructions that it should not be opened by anyone but the foster-father of the child. The foster-father some ten years afterwards left Sweden for the United States and is now dead. The vicar, as well as the chapter of Virestad, considered that they have no application to the Government.

All the ecclesiastical authorities agree that the vicar is right, while on the other hand some lawyers hold that it is not just to deny an abandoned child knowledge about his mother. The Code Napoleon embodied the rule that it is forbidden to investigate paternity, but otherwise no laws apply to the present protect the anonymity of the mother. In this case it was evidently the intention of the mother that her identity should be revealed to the boy after the lapse of some years, and considering the fact that the birth happened fifty-three years ago, it is argued that the Crown ought to act as foster-father.

CHARITY SOCCER MATCH.

ELEVEN GOALS REGISTERED YESTERDAY.

CIVILIANS WIN.

Goals are what the average spectator of football glomours for, and because eleven were registered in the charity match between the Services and Civilians at Sookunpoo on New Year's Day, a crowd of over 3,000 went away from the ground well satisfied with the entertainment provided. There were goals which were cleverly conceived and effected and others which called for a whole heap of condemnation on the defenders, but they all contributed in the making-up of a game, which at times was featured by brilliant football, and was always full of interest.

In addition, the result, a 6-5 decision in favour of the Civilians, was a fair one and just about reflected the general trend of the exchanges.

The chief impression gained from the match was the first half impotence of two sets of defenders, whose pronounced ability to make use of the slightest opportunity of putting the ball in the net, made goal-getting appear the most simple phase of the game. Every movement of attack during these hectic 45 minutes was fraught with danger for these in defence, and after a thrilling struggle, the attackers emerged definitely superior.

Collectively, there was little to choose between the teams. Both adopted the open method of attack, positioned well, passed the ball speedily and with accuracy, and made the goal their one objective. Under these circumstances the game naturally developed into a series of fast-moving exchanges, the ball being flashed from end to end in a manner which kept the spectators on the tips of excitement. One of the most enjoyable features was the clever teamwork displayed on both sides, when individualism was forgotten for the more progressive policy of uniform attack. The Civilians were slightly the better team because they remained a unit for the whole ninety minutes, whereas the Services suffered occasional lapses, when, in all departments, they were desultory and ragged.

For the Civilians, Clarke of the Police, although beaten five times, gave a sound performance, and had little chance with the shots which passed him. The biggest blunders came from strange and Lai Ting-nang, whose covering work was anything but good. They were also responsible for some very half-headed tackling, and did not appear to treat the virile Services with sufficient respect. Hedley (Kowloon) was a tower of strength at right half, accomplishing a tremendous amount of excellent work both in defence and attack. Oram (Police) found Atkin a severe handful and was inclined to be slow, but with Lam Yick-ying (Athletic) on his left flank, giving a splendid exhibition, the intermediate line was well able to hold its own, and find plenty of scope to assist the forwards.

The whole vanguard line played cleverly, with Pile and E. Gosano forming a right wing which harassed the Services' defence throughout the game. Pile worked indefatigably to keep Gosano plied with those forward passes on which the speedy Reerele winger thrives, and Lim in the pivotal position made full use of Gosano's finishing work. Sabban and Fung King-cheung were not quite so effective on the left wing, though the latter was responsible for some remarkable footwork.

The Services were best served by Hay at centre-half, Yeoman (left half), Peacock (inside right), Atkin (centre-forward) and Campbell (inside-left). Atkin led the forward with great dash, but the rearguard were never too confident.

After the first moiety, which yielded nine goals, the second half provided periods of inconsequential play, which promised to lead nowhere, though interest in the exchanges never lagged. Pile (two), Lim (3) scored for the Civilians in the first "45." Atkin (2), Campbell and Peacock replying for the Services. Lim scored again after the change-over, and Campbell responded in the closing minutes of the game.

H.E. the Governor (Sir William Peel) was amongst the spectators, and the Commodore (Capt. A. H. Walker) kicked off. The game was in the charge of Mr. Baldwin and during the afternoon, the Flies and Drums of the South Wales Borderers, rendered selections.

BLACK LIST OF 400,000 NAMES.

INTERNATIONAL POLICE FORCE AT WORK.

LIFE STORIES.

Hopes of effective international police co-operation in the fight against crime will shortly be realised if plans developed at Vienna by the International Commission of Criminal Police are successfully carried out.

There are many tricksters—international confidence men, mostly—who know their way about the capitals (and prisons) of Europe and America better than the average British citizen knows his own county.

War against international crime is organised and directed from the head office of the International Commission, which has its general headquarters in the "Polizeidirektion," the Scotland Yard of Vienna.

It is under the control of the Austrian Federal Authorities and operates in close touch with the headquarters of the Federal police, housed on the same floor of the big building.

All Under One Roof.

Unlike Scotland Yard, the Vienna police headquarters houses every section of the police departments, except that dealing with police dogs.

Alongside is the State Prison, with accommodation for several thousand, with a private passageway from the prison to the police record and registration department.

Thus the authorities have facilities for preparing and keeping up to date the thousands of neat files of criminals, which fill miles of shelves in the Record Departments of the force.

Under the one roof are the police training colleges, departments of criminology, photography, research, chemical laboratories, wireless telegraphic installations, registers of finger-prints and criminal record and a wonderfully interesting Black Museum—the relics of past crimes.

All these departments are available to the International Commission and it was through the Vienna criminal register that the International Black List of known criminals came into being.

Arranged in order are no fewer than 400,000 files and 200,000 photographs.

Each file is prefaced with a detailed pen picture of the man, his characteristics and mental and physical state, the document being signed in the man's own handwriting and sealed with a black print of his fingers and thumbs.

Forgers' Art.

Forgery, particularly of currency notes, is a strong line of the international crook and several printing plants in Austria have been seized by the authorities in efforts to prevent floods of spurious notes.

Some of the forgeries which I saw in the Black Museum are clever reproductions. British £5 and £10 notes were among them.

One of the best examples was an Austrian note drawn and coloured freehand by a boy of 14!

Wireless pictures and messages, and the frequent use of police aeroplanes are making it more and more difficult for the international crook to flourish, and if international co-operation of police forces develops the promoters of the scheme hope, the days of big coups will almost be at an end.

THE RIGHT OF FREE SPEECH.

EARL WINTERTON AND PAID INTERRUPTORS.

Earl Winterton, speaking at the United Club dinner in London on December 3, said that he thought the Conservative Party was prone to be too respectable. In the Victorian sense of the word, and too conventional.

"I will give an example," he said. "For years past, until, perhaps, the last few months, Socialist rowdies, many of them paid, have howled down Conservative candidates at elections in scores of constituencies to such an extent that often the electors have not once heard the presentation of our case."

"In the House of Commons Conservative members, putting our case fairly, have met with clamour, insult, and interruption which has made decent debate impossible."

"Yet we have the remedy to a great extent in our hands. The ordinary law of the land is strong enough to punish attempts to destroy free speech. A rigid application of the rules of the House of Commons can do much to prevent the grosser forms of interference with the right of a member to express his opinion. I want to make it clear that I attach no blame to the police in the one case, or the Speaker or Chairman of Committees in the other. These authorities can act effectively only if their aid is invoked."

HUGE SCORING BY
HONGKONG C.C.SAYER MAKES A BRILLIANT CENTURY.

ANNUAL FIXTURE.

A brilliant century by G. R. Sayer marked the opening day's play of the annual cricket match between the Hongkong C.C. and the Royal Navy yesterday when the Civil Service player contributed 160 runs to the huge total of 356 runs for four wickets declared, knocked up by the town team, who had first lease of the wickets in the last of the annual triangular fixture.

Going in first with T. E. Pearce, Sayer gave a bright display of cricket and was scoring all round the wicket. He went in for some hard hitting and soon began to mete out severe punishment to the weak naval bowlers. He and Pearce took the score to 67 runs before they were separated and with E. R. Duckitt he put on over 100 runs. Sayer doing most of the scoring. The second wicket fell at 174 runs. The third wicket added over 30 runs and when the fourth had fallen 294 runs appeared on the board, the third century being registered almost immediately afterwards.

Sayer was treating all the bowlers alike and punished all punishable balls. In his 160 runs he scored over 100 of them in boundary hits, including four sixes and 24 fours. Mitchell and Owen Hughes also scored sixes, each claiming one.

The Navy fared comparatively well against the Club bowlers but, as was generally expected, they were well behind as a result of the day's play. They had 130 runs on the board for the loss of nine wickets when stumps were drawn. The match will be continued to-morrow afternoon.

Tie at the I.R.C.

An exciting game was played at the I. R. C. yesterday when two teams, captained by Mr. A. H. Madar and A. S. Sufiad, met in a friendly game, which ended in a tie, both sides scoring 147 runs.

Batting first, Mr. Madar's XI put up the score of 147 before the last wicket fell. S. A. Ismail being top-score with 47, while A. K. Minu contributed 30. A. K. Ismail was the most successful bowler, capturing four wickets for 28 runs.

A good innings of 74 by F. D. Pereira and a well-played 32 by A. H. Rumjahn saved Mr. Sufiad's XI from a collapse, these two putting up three quarters the score. The last wicket fell at 147, the game thus ending in a tie.

Past students defeated the Present by 72 runs. Taking first lease of the wicket, the Present could only score 137 runs against some very steady bowling. At one stage it looked as if they would not top the century mark, but Gan and Kyum came to the rescue in a good last-wicket partnership which added 20 runs. F. Zimmermann bowled best for the Past, taking four wickets for 31 runs.

The Past students ran up the high total of 209 runs, thanks to some very consistent batting, only three of their men failing to secure double figures. Anderson was the mainstay of the bowling, and returned a fine analysis of five wickets for 21 runs. Scores:

POLICE SPORTS
YESTERDAY.CHILDREN SPEND HAPPY TIME.

MR. KENT'S HONOUR.

Nearly a hundred children spent a happy time at the Police Recreation Club yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the annual Christmas Tree and sports. In addition to the races there were various side-shows such as shoots, coconut shies, roundabouts, and hoop-la, which were in charge of various members of the Committee appointed by the Club to organise the sports. There was also a large Christmas Tree laden with presents which were distributed to the children by "Santa Claus" (Mr. Galvin). Much fun for the kiddies was provided by the amusing antics of the clowns (Messrs. W. Ward and W. Mair).

The chairman of the Committee was Mr. A. N. Reynolds, with Mr. C. F. Alexander (secretary) and Mr. A. J. C. Taylor (treasurer). In introducing Mrs. E. D. C. Wolfe, who distributed the prizes, Mr. Taylor expressed thanks to the Committee for the very hard work they had put in, and especially to Mr. Seriven, of H. M. S. Tamar, the R.E.'s, the B. and F. Dept. and Mr. Sutcliffe, also to the clowns and Mr. Glendinning.

Honour for Mr. Kent.

In addressing the gathering, after the prizes had been distributed, the Hon. Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe said he regretted to say that there was an air of sadness about the gathering as it was the last occasion on which their old friend and oldest member of the Club, who was also a Past President, would be with them—Inspector Kent.

Mr. Wolfe continued that within two months Mr. and Mrs. Kent would be leaving Hongkong and he was happy to be able to tell them that His Majesty the King had been pleased to honour Mr. Kent by awarding to him the King's Police Medal (applause). The hearty applause showed they agreed that the honour was thoroughly deserved and it was their sincere hope that when Mr. and Mrs. Kent returned to England they would enjoy a well-earned retirement for many years—(Applause).

Kent's police service was certainly well over 35 years and his Imperial service topped the 50 year-mark—(applause). Mr. Wolfe continued that, on behalf of the Club, he would like to express their appreciation for all that he had done for the Club since its inception many years ago, and to wish Mr. and Mrs. Kent all happiness and prosperity in the Homeland—(Applause).

Those present then gave three hearty cheers for Mr. and Mrs. Kent.

Mr. Kent, who was deeply affected, expressed thanks for the references to him.

Miss Victoria Moss presented a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Wolfe, after which three cheers were given for her.

The sports resulted as follows: Flat race, girls under eight.—1, Doreen Stevens; 2, Ellen Barnett; 3, Paula Hollands. Flat race, boys under eight.—1, Arthur Grimmett; 2, Guy Hollands; 3, Walter Evans. Flat race, girls over eight.—1, Elsie Hunt; 2, Helen Grimmett. Flat race, boys over eight.—1, Leslie Reynolds; 2, Norman Clarke. Boys and girls 3-legged race.—1, Maureen Booker and Norman Reynolds; 2, Neville Booker and June Booker.

Boys and girls egg and spoon race.—Boys: 1, Guy Hollands; 2, Leonard Hunt; girls: 1, Ellen Barnett; 2, Flo Grimmett. Ladies egg and spoon race.—1, Mrs. Hollands; 2, Mrs. Shannon.

100 yards, girls under forty.—1, Mr. E. P. 2, Mr. E. P. 3, Mr. A. N. Reynolds; 2, Mr. A. W. Grimmett.

Ladies thread and needle race.—1, Mr. and Mrs. Russell; 2, Mr. Peplow and Mrs. Morrison. Ladies coconut shie.—1, Mrs. Hunt; 2, Mrs. Grimmett.

Are You the Man who Shags-In his Bath?

You are a nuisance—but only to those who don't feel in the mood for shagging themselves. And that is their look-out. If they wake up liverish and out-of-sorts that is no reason why the man who takes Pinkettes occasionally and keeps himself in good trim should not give voice to his excellent spirits first thing in a morning. Pinkettes—every now and then—keep the liver and intestinal tract lively and alert. They are the watch-dogs of your health, for internal cleanliness is the first essential of a healthy body. ## CHAPTER LVIII.

John Mitchell leaned both elbows on his desk and frowned at the leather pad. It was seven o'clock and he was sitting in the living room of his home. The man's face was shocking. For the past three days and nights Mitchell had had little sleep. Dark circles beneath his eyes told of long, restless vigils. There were deep lines in his forehead and his cheeks were pallid.

Mitchell fumbled with a pencil. He did not even know that he was holding it. For the thousandth time the man tried to think and, as always, he came sharply up against the same stone wall.

It was a failure. He had always been a failure. Celia, his daughter, had left him just as years before Margaret, his wife, had gone.

"Oh, God!" Mitchell groaned aloud. He threw one arm across the desk and closed his eyes. Where was Margaret now? Why could she not understand his tremendous need of her? It was Margaret's need as well as his own really. Celia was her daughter, too. Couldn't the woman know she was deserting them both?

A vision of Margaret, fresh-cheeked and girlish, came before him. He saw her with lips parted, her brown eyes glowing with a smile that was both gay and evasive. Margaret! The young face was crowned with dark hair arranged in a pompadour. Her gown was blue, the same shade Celia wore occasionally. Margaret had looked like that—oh, so long ago!

Mitchell sat up sharply. What was the use of this nonsense? He turned as he heard a knock at the door. Edward, the butler, appeared in response to the call.

"Dinner is served, sir," Edward announced.

"Has Mr. Shields come in?"

"Not yet, sir."

"Then I'll wait until he comes." Again Mitchell bent over his desk and brooded over events of the past week. It was the same story. At every climax of his life he had taken the wrong turn. It was his fault Celia had disappeared. He was willing, at this late date, to admit it was his fault that Margaret had gone. He saw himself for what he was—a man grown prematurely old, a slave to the legal clients whose court battles had crowded practically every other interest from his life. They had homes, wives, and families, those clients who profited by his skill. What had he, John Mitchell?

The man cursed beneath his breath. Then he rose and went to a small cabinet. He withdrew a decanter, filled a glass and drank it.

How blind he had been to trust Celia to Evelyn Parsons! Evelyn was threwn. She had accepted John Mitchell for the fool he now knew himself to be. Oh, wildest folly! Three days and nights had opened the man's eyes to Evelyn's hypocrisy.

He struggled with the problem again. There were gaps in the story, happenings which he was unable to piece together or to interpret. Moreover, Evelyn, thwarted, was still an active enemy.

Mitchell paced the length of the room. He crossed the floor, turned and stopped at the sound of tapping on the door.

"Who is it?" he called.

"It's I, Mr. Mitchell—Shields."

"Come in!"

Barney entered the room. Mitchell sought the young man's face eagerly but found no cause for reassurance.

"They've lost Jordan!" Barney blurted out.

"What?"

Barney nodded. "I've just come from—"

"—a," he said, mentioning the detective headquarters.

"The fellow who's been shadowing Jordan came in half an hour ago and admitted he'd lost him."

A violent oath burst from Mitchell's lips. Shields joined sympathetically in the discussion which followed. The father was moved to put the whole matter before the police authorities.

"Maybe that's the thing to do," Shields said cautiously.

"Unless we get something more to work on I don't see how it will help. If I could only guess what was in Celia's mind—"

"We won't know that until we find her. Good God, Shields, I tell you I can't stand this any longer!"

They talked for several minutes and then Edward arrived a second time to announce that dinner was prepared.

For two days Barney Shields had been making the Mitchell residence his home. Not once in that time had Mitchell gone to his office. He seemed to cling to the young man as the one support in his sorrow. Together they had interviewed detectives, reconstructed again and again events preceding Celia's disappearance and sought to untangle the mystery.

Dinner conversation centred on the only subject which interested either of the two men. Practically nothing new in the search had been reported.

Again Shields broached the subject of Celia's motive for leaving Mrs. Parsons' home.

"I wish I knew how much she really cares for Jordan! Somehow I can't get over the feeling that she went away to marry him. You know what the doorman said—"

"But the maid denied there was a man there. Besides, Shields, I told you Celia said you were the man she cared for."

"I can't believe it!"

"Well, it's true. No—it's some devilry of Evelyn Parsons' that drove the girl off. That's what did it. Oh, if there were only some way of dealing with that woman!"

John Mitchell's eyes snapped as he spoke. The butler removed the plates and brought dessert. The two at the table were silent for some time and then Shields addressed his companion.

"There's one thing I've been thinking about," he said slowly. "Mr. Mitchell, don't you think if Celia's mother were here she could help us?"

"I wish I knew any way to get her here."

"You don't mean that she won't come? Oh, I know she wouldn't refuse—"

"I don't know where she is either. I've had detectives searching for 10 days."

"Then maybe they're together!"

Mitchell shook his head. "I don't think it's possible," he said.

"Celia didn't know where her mother was. It was a great grief to the girl. To what extent it may have influenced her in going away I don't know. Margaret's disappearance is just as mysterious as Celia's."

They were considering this phase of the problem when Edward entered the dining room.

"There's a gentleman in the hall, Mr. Mitchell, who asked to see you."

"Do you know his name?"

Edward handed Mitchell a card bearing the name of a representative of the detective bureau.

"Show him into the drawing room. Tell him I'll be there immediately." As the butler turned to go Mitchell pushed back his chair and rose. "Come along," he said to the young man, "It's McNeil. He must have learned something."

McNeil was the stockily built detective who had relieved Barney Shields from his all-night watch of Jordan's apartment. He was standing before the fireplace with his back toward the door when Mitchell and Shields stepped into the drawing room. At the sound he turned.

"Good evening, Mr. Mitchell. Good evening, Shields. I've just picked up a little information I thought would interest you."

"What is it?" Mitchell demanded.

"Mind if I sit down? Thanks," McNeil settled himself comfortably and looked up at his host who was still standing. "You know Morrison was trailing Jordan, but we'll soon find him again. Yes, sir! I picked up information an hour ago that Jordan has booked passage for Havana and is sailing tonight."

"Sailing tonight?"

McNeil nodded, pleased with himself. "At 10 p.m." he said. "I'm having the boat watched and as soon as he goes on board we'll know it. Once the ship put to sea you can rest assured that young man won't be mixing in any place where he's not wanted. I guess probably he's got wind of the fact that he's been watched and decided to blow."

"You're positive he's sailing tonight?"

"No—not really positive. Only why did he book passage this morning if he didn't intend to make the trip? We keep close watch of ship arrivals and departures. In this business, you know, I got wind that Jordan had paid for his passage and found out he'd left it some time before noon. Thought you'd be pleased to hear about it!"

Mitchell turned toward Barney Shields.

"What do you think it means?"

Shields shook his head. "Hard to tell," he said. "Of course it's possible he's worried and wants to play safe but I don't know—seems doubtful. We'd have more of an idea if we knew where Jordan was this afternoon."

McNeil glanced at a wrist watch. "It's nearly eight o'clock," he said. "Within two hours we'll know whether or not Jordan has walked up that gangplank. Personally, I think your troubles are over so far as that bum is concerned."

John Mitchell had halted and was staring at the detective. A strange look had come over the man's face.

"Did you—see the full passenger list?"

McNeil nodded his head emphatically.

"I know what you're thinking!" he said. "I read the full list. There's no girl by the name of Mitchell among those sailing."

Mitchell wiped his forehead. "You're sure of that?"

"No such name listed!" McNeil said stubbornly. "Well—I'll be getting along now. I'm off duty. We'll have this thing cleared up for you in a day or two, Mr. Mitchell."

"I sincerely hope so."

McNeil was shown out and the butler arrived with coffee. Shields declined the beverage but Mitchell was drinking his third cup when a telephone rang loudly.

"I'll answer," Barney said, springing up. He stepped into the hallway and picked up the instrument. A feminine voice greeted his ear.

"Is this Mr. Mitchell?" the voice demanded. "Celia—Mitchell's father?"

"No, but I'll call him," Barney turned. The older man was beside him.

"It's for you," Barney said, handing over the telephone.

The voice at the other end of the wire was excited and high pitched. Shields, standing near Mitchell, could hear every word.

"This is Lili Duncan," the voice said. "Mr. Mitchell, I wanted to tell you that Celia's gone."

"What do you mean?"

"I mean she's gone!" the voice insisted hotly. "She's been staying here with me but this afternoon she went for a drive with Tod Jordan and they haven't come back. It was nearly four hours ago and I've been so worried. I'm afraid something's happened!"

Pensions Requested.

Peking, Dec. 31.

Proclamations have been issued informing the public that the Octroi and similar taxes have been abolished in Fengtai, Kupeli, Koy, and Nankow, as well as at the gateways of Peking itself, thus indicating that the abolition of Likin is being enforced all over Hopei.

Officials who have been thrown out of work are receiving a month's pay, but are petitioning the Finance Ministry at Nanking for a further three months pay by way of pension.—Reuter.

Shanghai, Dec. 31.

It has been officially announced that all goods arriving in China after 4.30 this afternoon will come under the new tariff.—Reuter.

COMMON SENSE AND INDIGESTION.

Any doctor will tell you that almost all digestive trouble is due to excess stomach acid, which ferments food, generates painful gases, and attacks the delicate stomach lining. Obviously, then, to get immediate relief, you need only counteract the stomach acidity; and for this purpose there is nothing to equal a little 'Disburated' Magnesia taken after meals or when discomfort is felt. 'Disburated' Magnesia, which can be obtained from any chemist, speedily banishes indigestion by neutralising excess acid, stopping fermentation, and soothing and healing the inflamed stomach lining. Doctors and hospitals use and recommend this common sense remedy because, by acting directly upon the cause of the trouble, it always gives instant relief.

ADULTERATION OF SPIRITS?

ALLEGED MANUFACTURING IN BONDED WAREHOUSE.

The licensee of the Hang Lam Cheong warehouse, of 298, Des Voeux Road, West, appeared before Mr. Lindsay, at the Central Police Court on Wednesday, to answer a summons accusing him of having manufactured 323.8 gallons of adulterated liquor on his premises.

Mr. R. R. Todd (Assistant Superintendent of Imports and Exports) appeared for the prosecution and Mr. M. K. Lo represented the defendant.

Mr. Lo mentioned to his Worship that the facts were common ground and much time could possibly be saved as a result. He understood that about 50 jars of spirit had been imported from Macao on December 1 or 2 and, on arrival, were examined and tested by the Imports and Exports Department before being taken into bond. They were found to contain 45 per cent alcohol or under, coming within the category of sam ching spirit. They were taken to the Hung Lam Cheong warehouse where they remained until the 7th in accordance with the regulations and then notice was sent to the Import and Export Department stating that it was the intention of the owners to mix the various wines.

The following day a Revenue Officer attended and was present throughout the process of mixing. The wine was put into bottles and afterwards the Imports and Exports Department got hold of it for an analysis made. They then alleged that the spirit that the defendant got from Macao was in fact diluted spirit and not rice spirit at all.

It seemed extraordinary that they should prosecute the defendant for possession of wine which they had accepted although the duty had not yet been paid. The duty had not been paid because the wine had been sent to bonded warehouse.

Mr. Todd said that the duty on the wine had not been paid. The wine was not accepted but merely seen and then passed into warehouse.

His Worship: It was tested I understand?

Mr. Todd: The strength was noted. We didn't know at that time what was going to happen to that spirit. The accused had sent a chit asking for a revenue officer to supervise the blending and he (the revenue officer) attended and brought back a sample for analysis. As a result of that analysis he found what was supposed to be shung ching and sam ching, but it was not, it was diluted wine.

His Worship: The nature of this stuff was not revealed by your original test?

Mr. Todd: No, we simply got the strength. It passed into bond house and the question of duty had not arisen so far.

His Worship: Why was there so much delay; why was not the summons taken out until after 10 days?

Mr. Todd: I was not instructed by Mr. Lloyd (Superintendent of Imports and Exports) until the day before I took it (the summons) out.

His Worship: Is there some explanation for it?

Mr. Todd: It took three days for the analysis and then Mr. Lloyd had to consider the matter. The hearing of the case was adjourned.

LOCAL RUGBY.

TAMAR AND SMALL SHIPS DEFEATED BY CLUB.

Yesterday's game at the Club ground at Happy Valley was spoilt by too much milling in the loose scrums, with no very great advantage gained. Both sets of forwards were working hard, and did all they could, but when there is no chance of forwards settling through on their own, they should heel the ball and give their outside a chance.

The Club were a man short—in fact two men short, but that the Small Ships lost a three-quarter—and their win by three tries to a try, whilst flattering them slightly, was the result of good work in opportunism.

Teams for Interport Trial Match.

On Saturday, January 3rd, at 4.15 p.m. a Club Interport Trial will be held. This is the first and only trial to take place and form shown in this game will have a direct bearing on the composition of the Club Interport XV. With the aid of several Service players, the following are the teams:

Club Colours—Back, J. B. Whitelock; Three-quarters, G. P. Lammer, R. H. Griffiths, E. R. Allera, G. R. More; Halves, M. W. Turner, J. W. King; Forwards, D. L. Milne, W. F. Peers, W. F. Leckie, E. R. West, F. E. Burch, E. A. L. Plummer; Forwards, W. F. Peers, Capt. McKellar (Argyll's), Surg. Lt. Nicholson (Navy), Lt. Corp. Pratt (S.W.B.), Sgt. Vowles (S.W.B.).

INDIANS CELEBRATE.

NEW YEAR DINNER AT SINDHI HINDOO CLUB.

The New Year Eve Indian dinner was held at the Sindhi Hindoo Club, China Building, last night. Many guests were invited and were received by Mr. T. A. Mahantani.

In his speech, Mr. Mahantani said: "Gentlemen, I on behalf of my Sindhi brothers, thank you for joining with us on this New Year. The object of holding this dinner is particularly to bid good-bye to the year 1930 during which we all had to face business difficulties. We are however, looking forward to a good year in 1931, when I hope that all our desires pertaining to business will be achieved."

A toast to the prosperity and welfare of India and the Colony was drunk. "May the spirit of harmony, good will and mutual co-operation between us grow stronger from day to day," concluded Mr. Mahantani.

SEATTLE

GATEWAY TO AMERICAN MARKETS

SEATTLE is over 500 miles nearer to Yokohama than any other Pacific Coast port. By the "established trade route" via Honolulu, Seattle is nearly 1,500 miles nearer. The difference in time is proportionate—running from a day to a week, depending upon the speed of vessel. The same is relatively true of Kobe, Shanghai, Hong Kong and Manila.

The saving in time effected by shipping via Seattle means quicker deliveries, less "in transit" time and proportionate savings in insurance and interest charges. Are YOU enjoying these advantages?

Cargoes are transferred direct from ship to car and vice-versa, insuring dispatch and protection against loss.

CABLE CONTRACTS.

PROTRACTED NEGOTIATIONS COME IN AN END.

Nanking, Dec. 31. The Chinese Telegraph Administration and the Commercial Pacific Cable Company yesterday reached an agreement whereby the National Government granted the Commercial Pacific a renewal of their landing licence in China for 14 years, to date from January 1, subject to certain revisions of the agreement.

It is understood that these include a provision that the Ministry of Communications shall have equal voice with the Cable Company in the relations of the Company's Shanghai Office (the only one in China) with the public, while the technical operation of the cables remains in the hands of the Company.

It is understood that the Great Northern and Eastern Extension Telegraph Companies are signing somewhat similar agreements at Nanking to-day after protracted and very delicate negotiations.—Reuter.

Further Agreement.

Nanking, Dec. 31. After a lengthy session to-day, negotiations between the Chinese Telegraph Administration and the Great Northern and Eastern Extension Telegraph Companies reached a satisfactory conclusion regarding the broad principles of the agreement which are believed to be similar to the Commercial Pacific agreement reported earlier.

The details will be settled by negotiation later.

The Sino-Japanese agreement concerning the return to China of the Tientsin end of the Tientsin-Szechwan cable was initiated this afternoon, while an agreement has been reached on the general principles regarding the Shanghai-Nagasaki cable. Both have hitherto been controlled by Japan.—Reuter.

TEN DAYS ADRIFT.

NINE JAPANESE RESCUED BY TIJIKENBANG.

With the engines of their ship out of order, and their food supply exhausted, nine Japanese fishermen, who formed the crew of the schooner Tacon Maru, were picked up by the Dutch steamer Tijikembang, and brought to the Colony yesterday.

None of the crew spoke any other language but their own, but a Japanese consular official informed a representative of the S. O. M. Post that the nine men were the entire crew of the Tacon Maru, a small fishing craft of a few tons, which had its base in Formosa. Meeting rough weather, the vessel was subjected to a severe buffeting, and the troubles of the crew culminated with the ship's engines going out of order. Provisions were running short and as their position was out of the general run of ships, it was decided to serve out the food in rations. Absolutely at the mercy of the elements, the crew underwent a harrowing time. The bitter cold weather prevailing made matters worse, and it was under these conditions that the unfortunate fishermen drifted for 10 days.

They were in desperate straits when they were sighted by the Tijikembang, which was on its way to Hongkong from Java by way of Manila. Their provisions had run out some time before and every minute saw them being carried further south. With Japanese stolidity, however, they hung grimly, knowing full well that the chances of their being rescued were remote, and waiting for what fate had in store for them.

Still drifting to the south, the Tacon Maru was sighted by the Tijikembang on Monday. The rescue of the crew was effected with great difficulty, and the nine men were taken on board and fed. On their arrival here yesterday they were handed over to the Japanese authorities. Despite their terrible ordeal, the men were apparently none the worse for their experience.

MARSHAL JOFFRE FIGHTING.

PREMATURE REPORT OF HIS DEATH.

FLAGS HALF-MASTED AS RESULT OF ERROR.

ASKS FOR A SHAVE!

Marshal Joffre's wonderful fight against death continues to astound medical men. A report widely circulated in France that the aged Marshal had passed away at noon yesterday has since been disproved.

Paris, Dec. 31.

In spite of a steady downpour of rain, the crowd outside the nursing home where Marshal Joffre is lying, increased to-day, and a strong force of police had to clear the entrance to the clinic.

M. Barthou spent three-quarters of an hour at the Marshal's bedside this morning. On leaving, he said that Joffre was noticeably weaker and the doctors had for-bidden all further visits.

Heart Attacks.

Dr. Fontaine, after a visit, said that Marshal Joffre might die in five minutes or last until night. It was impossible to tell how much longer his heart would resist.
The Marshal had had several heart attacks during the night, but his mind was lucid and apparently he was not suffering pain.

He added that the end would be sudden.

Marshal Joffre several times during the night was heard to murmur to his wife: "It is not so bad."

Occasionally his fingers would wander over the sheet as it used to do over a war map, deeply moving the members of his staff.

Later.

"Extraordinary!" gasped a French Staff Officer on emerging from the nursing home at eight o'clock this evening. He told waiting journalists that the Marshal had just summoned a barber and had had a shave!—Reuter.

Later.

Marshal Joffre continues to put up a remarkable fight. He passed a quiet night and retains complete possession of his mental faculties.
—Reuter.

Paris, Jan. 1.

Marshal Joffre died at noon to-day.—Reuter.

Later.

The report of the death of Marshal Joffre is incorrect. A communique issued at 12.25 p.m.
states that the patient repases calmly.—Havas.

Later.

The reported death of Joffre is premature. A bulletin states that the patient is resting quietly.
—Reuter.

Denial Broadest.

Later.

The news of Marshal Joffre's death was broadcast throughout France at 12.40 p.m.

An important concert was stopped and "La Marseillaise" was played as a sign of mourning.
The denial was broadcast only an hour later.—Reuter.

Mistaken Report Spreads.

Later.

The mistaken report of Marshal Joffre's death was circulated widely. Flags were flown at half-mast in the capital and other signs of mourning appeared.

At Colombes Stadium where a great crowd had gathered for the international rugby match between France and Ireland, the huge assembly stood in silence as a mark of respect and all flags were lowered.—Reuter.

Later.

A contract valued at £616,000
for a new bridge over the Tees was placed yesterday with Messrs.
Dorman Long and Company.

FRANCE DEFEATS IRELAND.

BEAT IRISHMEN BY ONE
TRY TO NIL.

Paris, Jan. 1.

Tactics obviously pre-arranged to cope with the heavy conditions, won the rugby match between France and Ireland for the Frenchmen. They were the better of the two moderate teams, and scored a
try to nil.

The superior speed of the Frenchmen had the heels of the Irishmen, except Lightfoot. The Irish backs frittered away many chances by feeble handling.

By kick-and-run tactics, the French always gained ground, and Ribere scored a well-deserved try 10 minutes after the interval from a pass from a scrum.

Bursting through with an Irishman hanging on to his legs, he dragged himself over the line with the ball underneath.

Clady failed to convert. Ireland's last minute penalty presented a chance, but Ribere beat Lightfoot and touched down.—Reuter.

HOME FOOTBALL RESULTS.

LEADERS DO WELL IN ALL LEAGUES.

RANGERS' BATTLE.

Sheffield Wednesday, by their win over Huddersfield on New Year's Day, further consolidated their position as first rivals to the Arsenal at the head of the First Division table. Aston Villa, by losing away to Newcastle, drop down a little, while in the Scottish League the most important result of the day was the Rangers' narrow win over Celtic, by virtue of which the first-named team have a three points lead in the table over the latter.

There was but a small programme of games in the Second Division of the English League, in which Everton won their fifteenth match of the season and gain an even greater lead over all their rivals.

In the Third Division (North), Lincoln won away from home at Darlington, whilst Tranmere went down heavily at Chesterfield and lose their position as second in the table.

The full results of matches played on New Year's Day, as cabled
by Reuter, are as follow:

G.W.R. PROGRAMME.

London, Dec. 31.

The Great Western Railway has undertaken a big programme of development, including a million pound scheme for improving and enlarging Paddington Station, and the construction of £1,200,000 worth of locomotives and rolling stock, to be built at Swindon.

The whole programme involves the expenditure of £3,500,000 and many different industries will benefit.

New contracts and extensions of those existing at a cost in all totalling about £2,000,000 have just been issued by the Central Electrical Board.

A contract valued at £616,000
for a new bridge over the Tees was placed yesterday with Messrs.
Dorman Long and Company.

Despite the worldwide trade depression, it is disclosed that eight hundred thousand net value of tons of shipping used the Port of London during the nine months ended September 1930 more than during the corresponding period of the previous year, which established a record.

The Port of London Authority which has just completed a five million pounds programme of new works, thereby considerably improving the ports facilities, recently took five per cent. off port rates on foreign imports and exports.
It has also reduced dock rates on shipping by one penny per net registered ton.—British Wireless.

THE NEW VICEROY.

London, Jan. 1.

Lord Willingdon, Viceroy of India (designate) intends to sail for India from Marseilles on 3rd April and will arrive at Bombay on the 17th. Lord Irwin will leave Bombay for England on the following day.—British Wireless.

COAL STOPPAGE IN SOUTH WALES.

OVER 150,000 MEN ARE AFFECTED.

GOVERNMENT INTERVENTION
FAILS TO STAY.

VITAL MEETING ON 3RD.

London, Dec. 31.

Efforts were being made in South Wales to-day to avert the coal stoppage threat on the expiry of the temporary agreement to-night. Unless a more favourable last moment occurs the miners, who base their case on the recommendations of the National Industrial Board, will cease work to-morrow.

The owners, who do not recognise the Board, and who say they cannot affirm the aims it suggests, will leave the mines open to-morrow for those men who care to work on the terms they have offered, but unless a further move occurs to-day it is probable that practically all the miners affected will withdraw their labour.

Although the Government is watching the situation closely, the report that they are interested is unconfirmed.

Government Intervention?

Later.

Hints of a dramatic Government intervention in the coal dispute in South Wales, which will involve 150,000 men, had not materialised by noon.

The owners' terms have been posted at all the pits, the miners' excitement some agitation among the miners.

It is not expected that the Miners' Federation will call a strike. The men will automatically refuse to work on the owners' terms, considering themselves locked out.

The safety men have decided to work whatever happens.

Ray of Hope.

Later.

The coal stoppage in South Wales will certainly last three days, but a ray of hope that it will cease lies in the fact that the miners and the owners have agreed to call a meeting of the Conciliation Board to discuss a settlement. The meeting is to be held on January 3.

Later.

A last minute move was made by the Miners' Executive at Cardiff this afternoon, when they adjourned a meeting until the evening in order to meet representatives of the Government who are on their way from London.

Government Falls.

Later.

Strenuous efforts by Government leaders to obtain a reopening of the negotiations between the owners and miners failed at a late hour.

The Miners' Federation has instructed its members in South Wales not to work to-morrow on the terms posted by the owners.

London, Jan. 1.

In the South Wales coalfields today, following the failure yesterday to get the owners and men to renew the discussion, the stoppage was almost complete affecting 150,000 miners.

Hopes are entertained locally and at the Mines Department of a settlement by the Joint Conciliation Board, which, however, cannot meet before Saturday.—Reuter and British Wireless.

POLITICAL FIGHTS IN BERLIN.

POLICE KEPT BUSY BY REVELLERS.

Berlin, Jan. 1.

The New Year opened with political faction fighting. Two Republican Reich-banner supporters were killed in a clash with Nazis in North Berlin, while the police were kept busy in coping with revellers.

Very serious fighting occurred between Nazis and Communists at Stuttgart and eleven were sent to hospital afterwards.—Reuter.

NO COTTON FUTURES.

Cairo, Jan. 1.

According to the newspaper El Akram, the Finance Ministry is considering the introduction of a law prohibiting dealing in cotton futures. It is thought that the formation of an Agricultural Bank should make the practice unnecessary.—Reuter.
